Fort Payne. Dec. 10.—The members of the Methodist church gave a pounding to the new pastor, Rev. Waites, who was sent to this place at the recent conference held in Birmingham. The pounding consisted of over 100 jars of canned fruits and preserves of all kinds, groceries and meat, lard and flour in good quantities. The people of the town are well pleased with Mr. Waites' assignment to this charge, which has been made a station for the first time since the boom days of the '90s. you've tried it on that stiff sore muscle, sciatic pain, rheu-twinge, lame back, you'll find rm, soothing relief you never ht a finiment could produce, a't stain the skin, leaves no wastes no time in applying, to give quick results. "In capturing some of the towns," he says, "we found French civilians who had been under captivity for four years and had been treated in a shameful way by the Germans. How happy they were when we drove the enemy away and released them.

"I thought I would be scared to death to go over the top, but I found I was surprised. One morning just at daybreak we had orders to go over the top, and the night before they brought up hundreds of guns that had never been fired. In a few hours every gun opened up at once on Jerry's front line. It seemed like all the earth had fallen in except the part I was on. The shells were going over our heads by the thousands and bursting on the Germans' front line. It was a solid rumble from behind and it looked like all h—II and part of another that had never been heard of in front of us. Writes That He Received Wound Just Before Armistice.

Word has been received in this city
by relatives stating that First Lieutenant Foster V. Brown, Jr., was wounded shortly before the ending of the war.
The degree of the wound is not stated, though it is understood to be of no serious nature. Lieut. Brown recently wrote his father that he was convalescing in a hospital and would shortly be out, so this is thought to be the wound he received some time ago. If the wound is a recent one, then it is the second the young lieutenant has received during the war, he having formerly written that he was wearing a wound chevron from a slight wound he received some time ago. It will be remembered that it was once reported that Lieut. Brown had lost his life, but after several days of anxiety his family and friends learned that this was untrue. A short time ago Licut. Brown's father received a letteer from him saying that he had won the cross of honor and had also been promoted to the rank of first lieutenant. Before going to war Lieut. Brown, following the family characteristic, had entered the practice of law, and, like his distinguished father. Hon. Foster V. Brown, and his learned brother, Joe Brown, gave promise to make a name for himself in his chosen profession. On his return from the battlefields of France Lieut. Brown will again enter the practice of law,
and will probably become a member of the firm of Brown, Spurlock & Brown.

SUFFERED TEN YEARS FROM INDIGESTION

Trouble Gone, Appetite Strong

Miss Mary Duncan, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Woolford-Johnson Infirmary, is rapidly improving.

"I had a case of catarrh and indigestion of ten years standing. I had been treated by the best medical men in Michigan. When I commenced taking Milks Emulsion I was in bed. I improved so fast that I kept the neighbors wondering. I am now up and working every day. My cough is gone. My appetite is great, and I can eat anything without hurting me."—H. D. Lovelee, Rockford, Mich.

Indigestion is soldom cured by "helping" the stomach digest food. Digessives, like physic pills, usually make slaves of the stomach digest food. Digessives, like physic pills, usually make slaves of the stomach digest food. Digessives, like physic pills, usually make slaves of the stomach and bowels.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to run-down nervous people, and it has produced amazing results in many cases of tuberculosis of the lungs Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

"OUT THERE" ENJOYED

Proves to Be interesting and inspiring Story of Red Cross.

"Out There," which was presented at the Lyric Monday night, proved to be a delightful change from anything spen at the local playhouse before. It is a pleasing conedy-drama of the great world war, a play of pathos yet with bright, humorous scenes. It is the story of a Cockney girl, who, inspired by her country's call, sought a life of service "out there." As "Aunt Annie," Miss Pauline Lord took the part of a rather quaint character, but was charming throughout. The most humorous scene was that of a hospital ward, where Miss Lord appeared to the beat advantage. Frederick Warde, who is an old-time favorite with Chattanooga audiences, appeared to good advantage as the doctor and later as an army surgeon. The play of the great work of the Red Cross has an irresistible appeal and the close attention of the audience was held from has an irresistible appeal and the clos attention of the audience-was held from the first to the last curtain. "SVENGALI" GOOD DOG

Picases Risito Patrons in Excellent Act.

Tabloid Comedy Poor.

"Svengali," a dog of rare intelligence, is easily the star attraction on the Risito bill for the first part of the week. As a matter of fact this dog presents something entirely new in the way of performing animals. Instead of doing a number of set tricks, the dog is left pretty much to his own resources—such as counting the number of people in one of the boxes, then indicating the number of soldiers among those people, telling the time by merely looking at a watch, etc. This act is thoroughly enjoyable and it is to be desired that vaudeville would present more as high class.

one of his trenches. As we closed in on them they left their machine guns and came running out of their holes with their hands up and begvaudeville would present more as high class.

Arthur Whitelaw as the "Irish Chatterbox" is exceedingly entertaining and all of the other acts are good with the exception of the inevitable tabloid singing and dancing comedy. There seems to be mighty little excuse for an act such as the last one on the bill, but it comes at the tail end of the program and one can get up and leave without missing anything.

COMES WEDNESDAY

Trail of the Lonesome Pine" Drama tized From John Fox's Book. One of the best known of the season's productions, "The Trail of the Lonsome productions, "The Trail of the Lonsome Pine," comes to the Lyric Wednesday night. The dramatization of this widely read novel, which, as thousands of book readers know, is from the pen of John Fox. Jr., the author of "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," is by Eugene Waiter, the clever dramatist who has written such successful plays as "Paid in Full" and "The Easiest Way."

Fancy work, knitted articles, and aprons will be offered for sale in the library in charge of Mrs. Nathan Bachman and her assistants. Mrs. Brunswick Lowe will have charge of the department displaying bags and baskets and Mrs. Z. C. Pattes will have an attractive collection of oriental novelties that have become so popular during the past year.

The Business Girls' Mombership club will be in charge of the booth where the assortment of Japanese articles will be displayed and it is announced that there will be a much larger and varied assortment of these than any previous year.

Miss Lucy Montague, general chairman of the bazaar, requests that all who have prepared articles for the bazaar bring or send them to the building some time Wednesday if possible. The bazaar is the annual affair held every December for the purpose of raising funds to make annual payments on the property next door to the building.

Those interested say that it is generally realized that the space for dormitory purposes and other departments is inadequate, and that it will be necessary to build on the adjoining lot as soon as possible.
